Storage and warehousing

One of the basic things for providing the transportation services is proper storage and warehousing arrangement. As far as these aspects are concerned we own well equipped and highly secure godowns where all sorts of materials can be stored safely. Our offices are having top notch security features and thus there is no chance of mishandling of goods. The combined area of our storage and warehousing setup is around 5,000 square feet. Thus we have a dedicated arrangement as far as storage and warehousing is concerned. So, all the stuff that needs to be transported is handled very efficiently in our warehouse and offices.

Cargo handling

Cargo includes any kind of goods that are required to be transported from one destination to the other. Some goods are light weight whereas some materials are heavy like equipments, machineries, devices etc. Thus whether it the light weight cargo or heavy goods, we are the best source for all types of cargo handling. As far as the yearly data is concerned, we handle more than 2 lacs tons of cargo every year. With our expanding client base this figure is soon going to multiply. We take utmost care while handling the cargo and our main concern is that none of the items should get damaged in the process of transportation.

Wide customer base

Our customer base is very elaborate. We deal with all types of clients in a highly professional manner. When we promise something to the clients then we keep our words no matter what circumstances occur later on. We cater to a very wide array of customers from different sectors like Automobile, FMCG, Pharmaceutical Companies, Chemical industries, Consumer goods dealers, Raw material dealers, Engineering sector and many others. Thus, our client base is highly diversified and be it any type of client; we understand the exact requirements as far as transportation is concerned. We get repetitive service request from Indian as well as Multinational Companies.
